Castles

The theme of this yearbook is “Castles”.

Many pages show something of the stones or the battlements.

A castle as a safe place, a home with strong walls to protect, a place to live with the people you love, to grow in length and strength, but also in wisdom and knowledge.

Malango School is such a “castle”... a safe place to enjoy the fellowship of other students and staff, a place to grow and discover the world around you... to discover God’s wisdom in His creation that reflects His Majesty!

Much stronger and better lasting than these castles that we build, is our God. Time and again He shows in His Word, lest we forget, that He is...

My goodness, and my fortress;
my high tower, and my deliverer;
my shield, and He in whom I trust...

Psalms 144:2

Wherever we go:

God is there! Our Fortress, our Shield in Whom we trust!

On behalf of the staff,

Sinco ter Maat

Malango school would like to dedicate this year's yearbook to

Randy and Carla Whitman

Randy and Carla served our school for many years.

They are examples in godliness, humility, care,
and good leadership, both spiritually and practically.

We love you and respect you.

You have been such a blessing for us all these years.

A blessing in teaching as well as in leading our school in the Board of Management, the Malango School Committee, and in the Islands Regional Committee.

Thank you for your years of continuous service!

We hope to enjoy your services for many more years!

even there shall thy right hand hold me. Psalms 139:9-10

Michelle Gerdine Wols
